To the Editors of the Union:

A friend handed me the enclosed, cut from the "Cincinnati Daily Commercial" of the 2d inst., and taken from Forney's paper, the "Philadelphia Press,"

[Washington correspondence of the Philadelphia Press.]

The great trouble in illinois has been to get a Lecomptonite bold and brave amough to run against Judgo loughes, so as to acree the officials from the open coultion with the freedo of Hr. Lincoln, the republican canditate. When it is known that the Lecomptonites cannot carry a single representative to the legislature in likinois, you may self suppose that it requires a vant dual of compliacency and trast to think in the pilioty and act as a candidate merely as a blind, but patrongs can do almost anything—said patrongs has got out a Lecompton candidate for United States Senator in lilinois. And who to you think has agreed to perform the sacribos! No other than Mr. But paircage can do almost anything—and patronage has got out a Lecouplon candidate for United States Senator in Hinten. And who do you think has agreed to perform the saccines? No other that Mr. Schop Reeme, of Hintels, now a judge on the bench, and formerly a Senator in Congress. The Union rejects over his sillingues to set as a serven to the Lecouption movement. When I read the Union's price of yesterday, amounting this important fact, I stopped over article of yesterday, amounting this important fact, I stopped over he see a gentleman who knew all about Mr. Hesses, and from him I bearied that while he (ft.) was in the Senate, he was the bitterent for Mr. Bichanoan hal. They were in the Senator was insterious. This technical distriction of the Secretary of State. But the timene dislike of the Secretary to the Senator was insterious. This feeling has entured up to the present time, only growing more over-ful with years. But Hreene goes for Lecoupton, and at ready to help to make along to Durgias, and so he is taken to the beasum of the kxecu-tion and founded and for your.

His correspondent at Washington, whoever he may be His correspondent at washington, whoever he may be and I think I can guess, is certainly no democrat, nor disposed to do me justice. Had he desired the public should know the "antecedents" of one so humble as I am, he might have referred them to the journals of the Senate, from 1843 to 1849, during which time I did not fail to vote on every important question before that body, and generally with Mr. Buchanan, then the distinguished urnals will show.

I think it will be news to Mr. Buchanan that we were ever bitter foes, or at enmity even. But, if we had been, it would afford no reason why I should not support his administration, having faith in it. It is to my credit if I can bury personal resentments cut of sight.

I supported him with earnestness and zeal when he was nominated for President, and have had no cause to regret his election. I was one of the instruments in this part of the State by which the tide of northern opposi-tion was thrown back, and a plurality of eight thousand chieved for bim.

I have sustained his administration thus far from a sincere conviction that his ability is equal to his position; that his motives and designs are patriotic and pure; and that his mode of settling the distracting Kansas question was unexceptionable, and the best under all the circumstances, and, let what may come of it, I am decircumstances, and, let what may come of it, I am decircumstances, and, let what may come of it, I am decircumstances, and, let what may come of it, I am decircumstances, and, let what may come of it. termined to sustain him to the last on this issue at all events. He needs no "screen" for his patrictic and sacacious "movement" on this question. He will have justice done him sooner or later. He was true to his plotges, firm in his party fealty, and square up on the platform constructed for him at Cincinnati, and depart-ing in no respect from the principle of the Kansas-Ne-

I think I know some who do need "a screen," and close one, too, to hide their "movement" on this the only question the democratic party had, of any special interest, during the Lat long session of Congress. The were seen arrayed in the same phalanx, and there stood one whole session of Congress, with those who make 'niggers' the chief object of their solicitude. In fact they were there so long as to have imbibed their odor.

"Oh! their offence is rank-it smells to Heaven." Yours, very respectfully, SIDNEY BREESE.

NAVAL INTELLIGENCE.

Orders have been received at the Brooklyn navy-yard to lose no time in fitting out for sea the sloop-of-war St. Louis. Accordingly, she has been floated out of the dry-dock and turned over to the riggers, who are working energetically on her. She will be about the strongest and most serviceable ship of her class in the navy, whe fully equipped.

The New York Journal of Commerce states that, in The New York Journal of Commerce states that, in accordance with the recent order of Secretary Toucey to increase the marine corps by two hundred men, a rendezvous for the enlistment of able-bodied adults is now opened at the navy-yard, and from ten to twelve results are received daily. It is a singular fact that the royal marines of England are now being augmented by 5,000 additional red coats, for the very same reason that calls for an enlargement of our corps, namely: "the in-creasing number of commissioned vessels ordered on daty abroad." The expense added to each navy by this movement is—to the British, $600,000 annually; to the American, about $26,000.

The United States brig Bainbridge arrived at Cape Mount, W. C. A., July 26, from Porto Praya, and sailed foret, W. C. A., July 26, from Por gen on the 10th for Settra Krou.

Intelligence has been received by the Navy Department from Commodore Lavalette to the 25th of August. He was then at Gibraltar. The Wabash made that port from Key West in 29 days. All were well. The Wabash parted company with the Macedonian on the 23d of July, the day the vessels left Key West, and the latter was not expected to reach Gibraltar and the latter was not expected to reach thoractan before the latter part of August. The Macedonian will proceed to Gibraltar without delay, and thence go to the coast of Syria, after replenishing her stores at Spezzia. There are also despatches received from Captain Levy, of the Macedonian, dated July 20, at sea, long. 39 deg. 4 min. north, and lat. 22 deg. 10 min. west. All Surgeon M. G. Dulaney detached on the 1st of Octo ea next from the navy-yard at Portsmouth, N. H., and argeon A. A. Henderson ordered to relieve him. Lient. R. L. Law ordered to the Naval Academy.

The Norfolk Day Book states that Lieut. Augustus fclaughlin, of the Cyane, has been declared by a medi-McLaughlin, of the Cyane, has been declared by a medi-cal survey as unable to go to sea. On his late cruise, we believe Lieut. McLaughlin contracted the Chagres fe-ver at Aspinwall, and is probably suffering from the ef-icets of it yet. Lieut. T. S. Phelps, who was originally detailed for the Paraguay expedition, has been ordered to the Cyane, which will sail in a few days. Lieuts. J. A. Green and W. H. Murdaugh, the latter as flag lieutenant of the squadron, have been ordered to the Paraguay ex-pedition.

that direction. It may be readily seen by the naked eye on any clear evening, from about quarter-past seven to eight o'clock, although it is of course, viewed to much better advantage with a telescope, even of a low power, not magnifying more than ten or twenty times. It is now situated near the hind foot of Ursa Major, and is moving towards Arcturus; or, in other words, it is near the horizon, and ranging with the two stars known as the pointers the cornet being about as far the left of the cointers as the north star is to their right. The tail is plerably well defined, and about three degrees in length. This comet was first discovered on the 2d of June last, by Prof. Donati, in Florence, Italy. It was first seen in this country by Henry M. Parkhurst, of Perth Amboy, New Jersey, on the 29th of the same month-no information having then been received here of its discovery in Europe. One or two nights afterwards, it was discovered by Miss Maria Mitchell, of Nantucket, Mass., who also supposed that it had not been previously seen. Thus there were three independent discoveries of this comet, while it was so faint as only to be visible with a telescope, or about the size of a star of the eleventh magnitude. A very striking characteristic of this comet, when it was first discovered, was its extremely slow moand generally with Mr. Buchanan, then the distinguished senator from Pennsylvania. We were together, heart and soul, on the Texas treaty and on the Oregon question. My first speech on that question in February 1844, that distinguished man complimented very highly in his speech, on the same question delivered some days abserquent. It is true, I did not like yielding up our line of 649 40°, and so told Mr. Polk and Mr. Buchanan, and I between the same that the s cy, and there has been considerable difference of opinion upon that subject. It has already been visible in this country through a telescope for two months and a opinion upon that subject. It has already been visible to the treaty by which it was done. General Cass voted with me.

I never supposed, for this independent thought and action, I had incurred the enmity of Mr. Buchanan, one for whom I had the highest personal regard. I know I did not that of President Polk. Mr. Buchanan was the most prominent member of that administration which I supported by my voice and vote throughout, on all party measures. I did not vote for the treaty with Mexico, for reasons which I gave at the time, and which subsequent events have proved were valid. Neither that treaty nor the one with Great Britain were party measures, as the calculated at the Cambridge Observatory, it should not reach its peritographs will show. it passed its perihelion on the 13th instant; the orbit as a calculated at the National Observatory here gives a result with Harres & lady, do mearly similar; according to the orbit as calculated at Miss Ella Stow, do the Cambridge Observatory, it should not reach its peri-helion until about the 20th instant; but Mr. Parkhurst assigns it a period about a week later than that. He states that "the comet will be approaching both the earth and the sun until October, (or at least not materially recoding from the sun,) and will not probably reach its maximum of inherest brightness before the middle of October. It will therefore continue to grow more conspicuous until it begins to be again merged in the twilight. But it will very soon change its course to the South, and move so rapidly that it is not likely that it will be seen so late. My last observations seemed to indicate a decidedly elliptical orbit." He thinks that the orbit cannot be parabolic, as a parabolic orbit would not correspond with th observed positions of the comet in June and July last. An elliptical orbit, the ellipse being of moderate eccentricity, would give a period of revolution around the sun much shorter than a parabola. The elements correspond very nearly with those of the first comet of 1827, and with those of the comet of 1764. This would make the period of revolution about thirty-one years, and allow of two revolutions between 1764 and 1827, as a difference of half a year in the period of revolution may be readily accounted for by perturbations. If this be the correct period, its next return may be expected about 1889 or Mo'LLE PARODI'S CONCERT.—The farewell concert of this avorite and distinguished cantatrice was attended by a select and fashionable audience, and zent off most enthusiastically. Signora Parodi appears not to have lost any of those powers or capabilities of voice which have secured her such an eminent rank as an artist; and she was ably seconded by the other vocal and instrumental performers. The concert commenced with a piece written by Schubert, performed by Mollenhaner on the violoncello; and the audience were astonished and delighted at the wonderful skill, rapidity of execution, and purity of tone exhibited in this performance. He subsequently played the "Carnival of Venice" in an equally artistic manner. "Una vocepoco fa," as sung by Signora Parodi, was perhaps the best piece of the evening. Madame Johaunsen sung an aria from "Traviata," which displayed her flexibility of voice to good advantage; and the young American contraito, Miss Annie Kemp, sung "The Dearest Spot on Earth to Me" in a pleasing style. Her voice is very sweet, and, though not very powerful, shows evidence of careful cultivation. On being encored, she gave a beautiful Tyrolian melody. The playing of Salter brought down a perfect tempest of applause. We have rarely witnessed such facility and expression, combined with clearness of tone and power, in a planist; and some parts of his performance reminded us of Thalberg. The distinguished basso, M. Junca, made a very favorable impression. He possesses a commanding figure, and a voice of great power, although we had no opportunity of judging of its compass. The young English tenor, Mr. Millard, also acquitted himself well. On the whole, the concert was a triumphant success, and gave unalloyed gratification to all who were present.

THE THEATRE closed its second week last evening. The engagement of Mr. Booth has been a successful one, and his performances have given much satisfaction. He has undeniably, great talents; and with proper study and training will no doubt be able to inscribe his name upon the roll of fame in an enviable position. The acquirements of a Kemble or a Kean were the result of years of assiduous toil; and Mr. Booth has the advantage not only of the presige of his father's name and reputation, but of in no small degree those powers of delineation which enabled the elder Booth to sway the feelings of his audience at his will. It would be unjust to expect the son, while yet a young man, to excel the father, or even to equal him in all respects; but, still, we must say that at times he comes nearly, if not quite, up to the measure of his father's greatness. With a few years more of experience, he may claim to take rank with the first trage dians of the age.

During the present week Mr. and Mrs. Florence will appear. The pieces in which they perform are of a highly-amusing description; and although the characters are rather overdrawn, yet the design is to "shoot folly as it flies," and, perhaps, instead of always holding the mirro up to nature, it is as well sometimes to use a magnifying

MODER VERNON RECORD, -- We have received a copy of a new and interesting periodical bearing this title, which is published monthly at Philadelphia, in quarto form, under the patronage of the regent and ladies of the Mount Vernon Association of the Union. The price is only one dollar a year; and it is devoted to the advocacy of the great and patriotic enterprise which has been in augurated and very nearly consummated by the daugh ers of America, and which proposes to consecrate the home and the grave of Washington, as the pilgrim shrine of our country and of the world. The history and prog ress of the glorious cause, the names of contributors with appropriate essays, historical and general, ancodotes, and other valuable matter, connected with "the Father of his Country," will adorn and give interest to its columns. We learn that the entire pecuniary proceeds of this periodical, over and above its cost, will be appropriated to the Mount Vernon fund. CHESAPEARE AND OHIO CANAL.—The recent heavy rains have furnished an abundant supply of water for all parts of the canal. The entire length of the line is in fine navigable order, and a heavy fail business may be anticipated. The work on the new stone dams Nos. 4 and 5 is also said to be progressing rapidly. During the past week upwards of a hundred boats have arrived, eighty-six of them being from Cumberland, bringing about 8,600 tons of coal, and the remainder from different points with flour, grain, wood, &c. The receipts of tolls at the Georgetown collector's office for the same period amount to $3,945 84, as follows: Descending trade, $3,567 97; and ascending trade, $357 87.

EXTENSION OF THE "NEW BOOK STORE."— FRANKLIN PHILP respectfully informs his friends and the public that extensive atterations and improvements in the construction of the store are now completed. In addition to a large and recently selected stock of first-class stationery, American and European books, be has established a fine art gallery, (at the rear of the store,) where will be found the latest novelties in art, and all the conveniences of a public reading room, the leading European journals being regularly received.

Frill having correspondents in most of the European eities is prepared to execute foreign orders on most advantageous terms, and, from long experience in England and Amorica, feels confident in the satisfactory execution of all orders intrusted to his care.

FRANKLIN PHILP,
Rookscher and Stationer,

R-STREET BOWLING SALOON, 325 E street, between Twelfth and Thirteenth streets.—The undersigned would respectfully announce to the citizens and those temporarily residing in Washington that the above well-known and popular cetablishment will be reopened on Monday, August 23, 1858, after having been closed for a brief summer escano for the purpose of repairing the alleys and relitting the establishment in a handsome manner.

To goutdomen in quest of a heathful recreation sufficient inducations are officied, as the stricted order and decorum will be preserved.

The proprietor begs leave to return his thanks to the public for having sustained him so liberally heretofore, and solicits a continuance of their patronage.
